

EX TOWN AND COUNTRY ALDERMAN NEWSLETTER 64
UNAPPROVED CHESTERFIELD NEWSLETTER 12

October 13, 2012

By John Hoffmann

WE FOLLOWED THE BIG MONEY AND FOUND THAT CHESTERFIELD BIG SPENDERS WERE UNIQUE IN THEIR SUPPORT FOR AKIN

Why did I do it? Curiosity was the main reason. I had written about getting invitation to Claire McCaskill fundraisers where the return envelopes had suggested donations ranging from $250 to $15,000! I accused her of being a closet republican asking for campaign contributions in four and five figures. I also wanted to see how much big-money was being raised before Todd Akin's "legitimate rape" remark resulted in making the Missouri senate race a national issue.

Sen. Claire McCaskill

Rep. Todd Akin

So I spent about 30 hours picking out all the large contributions made to the Todd Akin and Claire McCaskill campaigns from January 1, 2012 to the first week of August. I only listed contributions of $1,000 or more.

The task wasn't so hard going through the Federal Elections Commission records of Akin's contributors. There were 89 pages. However, McCaskill was another story. For 2011 to August of 2012 she has 636 pages of contributors. Overall she had out-raised Akin $6,294,160 to $1,588,028. Again this was all before the adverse publicity after Akin's interview with Charles Jaco.

There were only two West County places Akin did better than McCaskill in big money fund raising for the seven month period. One was in Chesterfield. He out did McCaskill in getting wealthy people in Chesterfield to give money to the tune of $59,200 to McCaskill's $17,750 from donors giving $1,000 or more.

Of the 30 people from Chesterfield who gave more than a $1,000 to Akin, Mitchell and Jody Waldman gave $10,000. Kathy and Thomas Maneniti also combined to give $10,000.

The highest amount forked over to McCaskill in the first half of 2012 from Chesterfield was $2,500 from attorney Craig Towerman.

LADUE WENT FOR AKIN TOO: The other spot along Clayton Road that Akin was really able to rake in the cash was in Ladue. He had 14 large scale contributors who gave $44,500 over seven months. Robert and Robin Herman combined to give $10,000 while Deanie Reis, Erle Linberger, Nick Karakas and Mary Trulaske all gave $5,000 each.

Claire got $31,400 in super-sized donations from Ladue, led by $6,000 from Hope and Julian Edison followed by $4,000 from Ed Dowd.

CLAYTON WAS A DIFFERENT STORY! One thing you noticed going through the Federal Election Commission records was that Todd seemed to have a lot of doctors giving money and Claire had a lot of lawyers. The home to most lawyers in St. Louis County is Clayton. 65 people using Clayton as an address gave McCaskill $116,950. This was led by Ann and Randy Lipton coughing up $7,500. She had five other people giving $5,000 contributions.

Chesterfield city attorney Bob Heggie, listed his donation as coming from Clayton. Heggie who works for a city full of Republicans, gave Claire a $1,000 in 2011.

Todd had three people from Clayton give $4,700 including $1,000 from James Runnels of Enterprise.

RICHMOND HIEGHTS WAS ALL MCCASKILL: The money-section of Richmond Heights is along Clayton Road from Hanley Road to Lay Road. Akin did not get one $1-000- plus contribution from someone claiming to be from Richmond Heights. Claire got eight for $13,600.

EVEN TOWN AND COUNTRY WENT FOR MCCASKILL, BUT IT WAS CLOSE. Our crunching of the big dollar contributions from January through July showed that 14 people from Ground Zero of Snoburbia, Town and Country, where Akin lived for decades, gave Todd $27,100 in contributions of $1,000 or more. The largest was $5,000 from David Keinath.

McCaskill had two fewer T&C large-size contributors but raised $28,300 from Town and Country in the same period. The largest appeared to be $6,000 from Jane Peacock, followed by $5,000 from Debra Robson and $5,000 from Tom Santel of BJC.

In Frontenac it was two big donations of $3,400 for Akin and eight to McCaskill for $14,825

THE NORTHERN ROADS TO WEST COUNTY WERE ALL McCASKILL! Jerry Jost was Todd Akin's only high-dollar contributor from University City giving $1,500 in 2012.

26 people from University City forked over $1,000 or more to McCaskill for a total over the first seven months of 2012 of $38,150. Barbara and Donald Lea combined for $10,000,

In Olivette it was $1,000 from Barking Dogs, LLC for Akin, Six people give $14,000 for McCaskill, including $5,000 from Aaron Saks, who listed his occupation as a "coach" at Clayton High School.

In Creve Coeur Akin did better, but it was still McCaskill with the most. Akin had 10 people contribute $16,750 including $5,000 from Charles Drury of Drury Inns and his wife Shirley. Claire got $22,150 from 12 Creve Coeur residents with Phil and Sima Needleman giving $6,500.

HOMETOWN ADVANTAGE: We mentioned that McCaskill did slightly better in Town and Country than Todd, despite Todd living in western T&C for decades. Akin is now a Wildwood resident. He got just one big contribution in 2012 from Wildwood for $4,000, Claire had three big contributors from Wildwood for $5,000.

McCaskill has three cities where she has connections. She went to high school in Columbia and attended the University of Missouri. She was a state representative and a two term prosecuting attorney from Jackson County. She now lives in Kirkwood with her lot abutting Des Peres.

In Columbia Akin got $10,000 from Dr. Timothy Holekamp and his wife. 20 people coughed up between $1,000 and $3,000 for McCaskill from Columbia for a total of $28,000.

Todd had six large contributions from Kansas City for $12,750. Claire had 115 for $246,813. 41 contributors listed their occupation as an attorney or were law firms.

In Kirkwood Todd had four big contributions for $6,850 during the period checked, Claire quadrupled that getting $26,850 from 17 people. In nearby Des Peres it was Akin by a nose. Each candidate had four people give large sums from Des Peres. Todd got $7,500 and Claire got $7,000.

You can't say Kirkwood and not mention Webster Groves. Webster was almost all McCaskill. Akin got one donation for $2,000. Claire got 11 high-end contributions for $23,000.

EVEN IF MY GUY WINS BY A LANDSLIDE I WILL HAVE PISSED OFF 40-PERCENT OF THE VOTERS! That was the sage advice I was once told by Roy Gleason, the owner of Webster Records, a store with two curved windows on the main street in town that had a heavy amount of foot traffic on why he never allowed political signs in the windows.

Roy Gleason with his wife Dorothy outside of their record store. There were lots of posters in the window, but none were ever political.

I thought about this advice when I noticed that in 2011 Craig Schnuck was a big money contributor to Akin and in 2012 Roger and Sharon Dierberg combined with $2,000 for Akin. Both Schnuck's and Dierberg's recently built a 74,000 square foot and 75,000 square foot mega-supermarkets about 1½-miles from McCaskill's Kirkwood home/compound.

Now if I were in McCaskill's position, I would not want to be shopping with people who are giving my opponent large sums of money. This would mean I would be at the Kirkwood Shop and Save and the Manchester WalMart a lot more than perhaps I wanted. For the Schnucks and Dierbergs it could mean losing one of the area's wealthiest persons (McCaskill's husband) and his wife as a customer. It would also mean customers could not say, "Guess who I ran into at Dierberg's today? I saw Senator McCaskill."

CENTRAL WEST END: McCaskill had a real gold mine going with the people who live on the big private streets in the 63108 zip code. She received $44,426 from people in the 63108 area, including a single $10,000 check from Todd Epstein. Akin had two donations for $3,000 from the land of closed streets and impressive gates.

MISSOURI OVERALL FOR MCCASKILL. The votes from outstate Missouri may go against Claire McCaskill but the large campaign donations were all for her. 537 people from 78 different Missouri cities and towns gave $986,852 in large sized contributions to McCaskill in our 2012 period. Akin managed $297, 920 from 137 persons from 38 Missouri cities and towns.

16 TONS AND WHAT DO I GET? In the case of coal miner Todd Akin he got a lot of money from the coal industry. Not the miners or miner unions, but the industry. Large contributions came in from people in the coal business from small towns in Southern Illinois, Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky.

One would have to think Todd's view of downsizing the Federal government's role in business regulation and people's lives might have come into play. Let's face while coal mining used to be one of the most dangerous jobs in America, it doesn't even crack the top-10 anymore. But those Federal Mine Inspectors can really be annoying. (Taxi drivers are now in 10th place, with loggers and commercial fishermen in the top two spots of most dangerous jobs.)

McCaskill voting for Cap and Trade restrictions of the coal industry also would be a good reason why money would be reaching her opponent. Plus new EPA regulations from the Obama administration on clean coal is still another reason for money to flow from coal companies to Republican candidates.

In out of state big-dollar fund raising Akin beat McCaskill in Ohio, raising $52,450 to her $12,000. His money came from places like Pepper Pike and St. Clairsville. He also shutout her out all together in West Virginia and Kentucky, thanks to Coal money. But McCaskill crushed Akin in places like, New York, Connecticut and California.

(Todd's lone high-end contributor from Webster Groves listed himself as the owner of the "Mine Supply Company.")

THE OUT OF STATE MONEY: If you are a cynic like myself you might think Todd Akin is in the pocket of the coal industry and could care less about miners with black lung or buried in graves call "collapsed mines."

If you are a McCaskill supporter you could claim that Claire is loved all across the nation. If you are a cynic you might ask, "Who the hell is she representing anyway?"

The reason is that from January 1, 2012 to August 8, Claire raised more high-dollar contributions from outside of Missouri than in it.

She brought in $986,852 from within Missouri and $1,294,954 from outside of Missouri. In New York City alone, 99 people handed over $236,650 in big contributions. She took in a total of $330,800 from New York State including NYC.

Akin got nothing from Chicago, while Claire nabbed $72,800 from big donors of the Windy City.

Akin got one $2,500 contribution from a person in Naples, Florida. McCaskill took in 28 big contributions from the Sunshine State for $65,513, including four from Naples.

Akin had got two big checks from California during the period examined for just $2,300. Meanwhile Claire deposited 80 checks from people in living in 35 different California cities for $166,075. There were a few notable Hollywood names, but McCaskill did fundraising among the show biz people in late 2011 and got a lot of checks from the likes of Barbara Streisand and the Spielbergs before 2012..

OTHER NOTES OF INTEREST FROM THE RESEARCH:

Town and Country mayor indirectly stiffes the Republicans: Jon Dalton, well known cigarette lobbyist, snatcher of elderly widow's property and businesses and the mayor of Town and Country is a partner in the law firm of Lewis-Rice. Akin got nothing from Lewis-Rice while the Democrat McCaskill got a $500 contribution in 2011. Akin's fellow candidates in the primary, Sarah Steelman and John Brunner also got nothing from Lewis-Rice.

KC Republican gives to Claire. Former Republican Kansas City Councilwoman Teresa Loar, who for a decade ran the reelection office for Republican Congressman Tom Coleman gave a $900 contribution to McCaskill in 2011.

Doctors versus lawyers! I found what I thought were a lot of doctors giving to Akin and lawyers giving to Claire. In Missouri out of 137 big-dollar contributors for Akin 24 were doctors. (17.5-percent)

McCaskill beat Akin in the doctor race by one. Out of 537 Missouri contributors for Claire, 25 were doctors and 139 were lawyers. More Missouri lawyers gave big bucks to McCaskill than the total number of Akin contributors from the Show-me-State. A total of 26-percent of McCaskill's big contributors during the period were attorneys or law firms.

WOMEN: It also seemed that some pages from the McCaskill FEC files had an unusual number of women names. In Missouri 40-percent on McCaskill contributors were women. It was 34-percent for Akin. I bet that percentage of women for McCaskill went up after the Jaco interview.

PACS: Akin received $1,000 from two different Political Action Committees during the period of our study. McCaskill also received contributions from two PACS, but the amount was a little bit more than Akin saw.

Claire got $129,375 from the Act Blue PAC of Cambridge, MA. She did even better from a PAC in Washington DC. Emily's List kicked in at least $160,000 for the period we checked, plus more in 2011.

Lobbyists: Lobbyists by their nature like to hide the fact they are lobbyists. Checking the occupation of contributors from Washington DC, Virginia and Maryland you see a lot of "consultants" and "attorneys." "Government Affairs" is a code word for lobbyist. I still remember from my days in Washington several of the DC law firms that did nothing but lobbying...however, while I think most of the contributions from the DC area are from lobbyists...I will just give you the total numbers.

Washington DC: Todd just got $1,000 from General Dynamics. As a sitting congressman he still may have dealings with the defense appropriations.

Claire collected 29 checks for $38,500, plus the really big money from Emily's List PAC.

Virginia: Todd collected $12,750 from the Virginia DC suburbs. All appears to be from lobbyists. Claire got 22 checks for $37,300.

Maryland: Todd got nothing from the DC suburbs of Maryland. Claire got 20 contributions for $25,000.

BEFORE THE HIPPIES IT WAS THE BEATNIKS AND GREENWICH VILLAGE AND PROFESSOR LEHRER: One $2,500 contribution from Cambridge Massachusetts was from Tom Lerher who listed his profession as professor and song writer. Lehrer wrote musical political satire for the piano, which was later copied successfully by Mark Russell in Washington, Dc.

Lehrer, a Harvard math professor, had two hit albums that featured songs such as “Poisoning the Pigeons in the Park” and the “Vatican Rag.” Lehrer’s work was a favorite with the anti-establishment crowd. I remember playing him on the radio when I worked as a DJ at the hippie radio station on Gaslight Square in the late 1960s. (I thought I was a regular lefty and the station management considered me their conservative from the suburbs who would appeal to teenagers.)

Here are the links to three of his “biggest” hits or just Google Tom Lehrer and his YouTube material will show up:

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=yhuMLpdnOjY>

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=3f72CTDe4-0>

ODD AND ENDS: I noticed more small donations made like a monthly payment going to McCaskill. These were from retirees, government workers, school teachers, etc. That smallest were checks for $5, although regular $10 checks were not uncommon.

McCaskill also won the “most interesting occupations of contributors” category. She had opera singers, ballet directors, dozens of writers, publishers plus members of the media, but they were mostly from New York or California. The only known media name from St. Louis was Emily Pulitzer who no longer is a stockholder with any interest in the Post-Dispatch.

Laugh: The one that made me laugh was the occupation listed after a $10 donation from Nate Kennedy in Poplar Buff...it read...“$10...Nate Kennedy...Jimmy Johns Driver.”
